LEARN LAW. SEEK JUSTICE.

The Faulkner Law Difference

Anchored in character and service, we provide an outstanding legal education in a distinctively Christian environment that will help you strengthen your career and use your law degree for good. Below, you will learn more about why you should pursue your law degree with Faulkner Law and how we will help you practice with purpose and make a positive difference in your community.

"learn to do good; seek justice, correct oppression; bring justice to the fatherless, plead the widow's cause"

(Isaiah 1:17 ESV)

FLEXIBLE PROGRAM OPTIONS TO FIT YOUR LIFE

We offer a 90-credit-hour Juris Doctor (J.D.) program with flexible scheduling options so you can choose the option that best suits your lifestyle.

Full-time Schedule

A full load of on-campus classes over the course of three years.

Flexible Schedule

A reduced load of on-campus, daytime classes over the course of four years.

No matter what scheduling option you choose, our rigorous academic program emphasizes both a deep understanding of the law and legal analysis and the accumulation of a broad range of skills necessary to practice law successfully.

OPTIMAL LOCATION IN MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA

As a small, Christian law school in Montgomery, Alabama, our location in the state capital will provide you with ample real-world experiences and opportunities to work in a variety of legal settings and more, such as:

- Alabama Appellate Courts
- Attorney General's Office
- District Attorney's Office
- Public Defender's Office
- County Circuit and District Courts
- United States District Court for the Middle District of Alabama
- United States Attorney's Office
- Federal Public Defender's Office
- Various State Agencies
- Various private law firms

As a Faulkner Law student, you will also be near many statewide associations, including the including the Alabama Association for Justice, Alabama District Attorneys Association and the Alabama Association for Justice. These associations provide you with ample upper-level experiential learning opportunities, such as field placements and externships, to benefit from practicing the application of the law in an actual legal setting.

UNMATCHED SUPPORT INSIDE AND OUTSIDE OF THE CLASSROOM

By keeping our classes to a low student-to-faculty ratio, we encourage you to communicate openly and often with your professors. In fact, our professors truly care about your career and personal success. Our faculty bring an abundance of real-world experience to the classroom to help you hone your skills and reach your fullest potential.

Support from the Faulkner Law community does not stop at graduation. Every graduate automatically becomes a part of the Faulkner Law Alumni organization. As a member, you will have access to law school news, library resources, upcoming events, and free/discounted continuing legal education opportunities. Our 2,800+ graduates are making a difference in the legal field and in their communities as successful practitioners, judges, prosecutors, public defenders, and politicians.

ON-SITE LEGAL CLINICS

AMPLE CLINIC AND FIELD PLACEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

As a second- and third-year law student, you will have the opportunity to contribute to Faulkner Law's mission to serve the disadvantaged and vulnerable in our community through our many clinics and field placements. You will work in collaboration with many other professionals to seek justice, to liberate the oppressed, and to take up the cause of the marginalized and exposed. Our clinics afford a moment of transformation when you will shift from analyzing cases and problems to serving clients and people. Through this service, you will gain experience that is transferable to your future practice.

HIGHLY RESPECTED TRIAL ADVOCACY PROGRAM

In addition, our Trial Advocacy Program is designed to get students who are interested in litigation practice-ready on day one. This program will help you develop your skills as a lawyer and better enable you to understand and break down cases in order to truly find the heart of the matter.

"I am thankful that I chose to attend Faulkner University's Thomas Goode Jones School of Law. My time participating in the Trial Advocacy Program gave me the skills and training I needed to excel in my career as a trial attorney. Because of my time and training, I am able to fiercely advocate for victims and serve my community."
